BACKGROUND AND EXPERIENCE

Brief presentation of the partner organisation (e.g. its type, scope of work, areas of activity and number of the persons in the staff)

INNETICA is a non-profit association founded in 2009 whose main objective is to promote cooperation between different entities throughout Europe, with the intention of promoting European values as established in Article 2 of the Treaty of the Union. European. INNETICA's mission focuses on promoting social innovation projects and the development of educational projects and teaching activities.

Regarding the specific purposes of INNETICA, they are to promote sustainable development, environmental protection, promotion of European Cultural Heritage and the integration of immigrants. To achieve these objectives, INNETICA carries out a series of activities such as the organization of conferences and meetings both at national and European level in areas such as education, training, culture, research and social innovation. In addition, it is responsible for carrying out dissemination campaigns about the results of the projects implemented by the association and for the creation and development of content, applications and digital services in different languages, which are specific to the aforementioned areas of interest.

In the field of education and training, INNETICA is proactive in improving the quality of education and training of its associated entities through the development of European projects that promote innovation and the exchange of good practices. Likewise, it supports and organizes training programs, symposiums and conferences. In addition, the entity makes use of ICT applied to Education and Social and Cultural Innovation, using digital tools such as apps and e-learning platforms.

INNETICA has participated in numerous European projects on various topics including art and culture, migrants and youth, ICT and the environment, among others. It is also worth noting that its "Youth-European Cultural Heritage" MINERVA project was selected in Poland as an example of Good Practices in Culture and Youth.

The INNETICA network is made up of associations, university entities, public bodies, companies, vocational training centres and a wide range of professionals and volunteers from different countries, all contributing with their ideas and experiences for the change and improvement of European societies. With a team of seven professionals and a diverse staff that includes graphic designers, photographers and community managers, INNETICA makes sure to offer effective dissemination of its projects.

In summary, INNETICA plays a fundamental role in promoting European cooperation and developing initiatives that address education, culture and current social challenges. Its experience in project management, the ability to generate networks and the application of digital technologies position it as a key entity for carrying out successful Erasmus+ KA2 projects.
